Echo of cooker bomb blast in Mangaluru

Five-member NIA team investigating in Mysuru

City intelligence network activated; Police Stations to collect info about new tenants

Mysuru, Nov. 21 (RK&BCT)- A five-member team from the National Investigation Agency (NIA) has landed in Mysuru this morning to investigate the antecedents, contacts, place of residence and the places visited by the prime suspect in the Mangaluru cooker bomb blast case where the Improvised Explosive Device (IED) exploded in an autorickshaw on Saturday last.

The suspect, now identified as Mohammed Shariq, 24, is an accused in two separate unlawful activities cases in Karnataka since 2020. He has suffered 40 percent burns in the blast and is wanted in a terror case registered in Shivamogga, in September this year, for alleged links to the Islamic State (ISIS) and was arrested in 2020 for painting anti-national graffitis on a wall in Mangaluru, Police said.

The NIA and Karnataka Police have been looking for him. Shariq had rented a room at Lokanayakanagar near Mysuru City Police barricade the road leading to the rented house of the accused at Lokanayakanagar.

Metagalli by providing a fake identity and reportedly told the owner of the house that he was in the Mysuru city for 'mobile repair training' at a shop in Agrahara. He had stolen the identity of a Railway employee named Premraj Hutagi, a resident of Hubballi. Hutagi said that he had lost his Aadhaar card twice in the last two years.

Incriminating materials found

The NIA team is collecting information from the Police who conducted mahazar at the Lokanayakanagar house yesterday. Information is being gathered from the forensic team who collected vital clues.

Police, Bomb Disposal Squad and forensic teams raided the room yesterday and found explosive materials, the quantum and details of which the Police are still tight-lipped about. The ground floor room had incriminating materials such as explosives and circuits used in bombs, sources said.

They added that the room was rented out to Shariq for a monthly rent of Rs. 1,800 and after taking the room, he travelled extensively to Tamil Nadu and on the day of the blast, he came to Mangaluru from Mysuru.

Based on the leads, three persons have already been arrested in Mangaluru and one more person having links to Shariq from T. Narasipur is being interrogated. The contact from T. Narasipur is said to have supplied Shariq over 10 mobile phones for just Rs. 500 to Rs. 1,000.

Police said that the mobile number Shariq was using was procured in Tamil Nadu using another set of fake documents. The mobile tower dump analysis shows Shariq has travelled extensively in Tamil Nadu over the last several months.

Intelligence network activated

As the news spread about Shariq staying in a rented room where bomb-making materials were recovered, City Police activated the intelligence network and each Police Station has been given the task of collecting information about new tenants who took houses on rent, especially in secluded areas far from the eyes of Police and public.

Teams are visiting houses that have been given on rent and the owners are being asked to collect authentic information from the people seeking accommodations. People who take rooms for short terms are under scanner and the Special Branch officers of each Police Station have been tasked with reactivating their informant networks.

Directions have also been given to hoteliers to be strict and more vigilant with regard to the identity verification of their guests and to share the information with Police regularly. Police have been asked to monitor CCTV footages on the movement of people in residential areas and to keep a close vigil on the movement of suspicious people at all transit, exit points including Railway Station, Bus Stand and major religious places.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Every human being has had to pass through that sort of painful animal life in the past. But that does not mean we should be the cause of misery for those animals who have taken shelter with us today. On the contrary, we should have a merciful attitude towards them. We need to carry out our duties properly in the external world and ensure no being is mistreated. In the physical sphere, the rights of all should be protected. Each and every human being should be guaranteed the basic necessities of life: food, clothing, medicine, shelter and education. 'I won't exploit anyone, and I will not allow others to exploit me.' This is the spirit of proper objective adjustment. And while this proper objective adjustment is maintained, work must continue in a progressive way.

Today, most of us face difficulties in maintaining an objective adjustment with the physical world. As we have not yet been able to build an ideal human society, we will have to first concentrate on providing everyone with the basic requirements of life. To enable society to progress spiritually, people need to be given sufficient scope and time for spiritual practices. The subjective approach is to first withdraw the crude mind gradually from the external world and merge it in the subtle mind, and then to merge the subtle mind in unit consciousness. When unit consciousness is merged in Cosmic Consciousness, a human being is said to have attained the supreme fulfilment in life.

In the present world, we face such tremendous difficulties in maintaining our objective adjustment that we cannot afford to give any time for the subjective approach. That is why it is essential to build a healthy human society as early as possible, so that each and every one of us gets enough scope and time for spiritual progress.

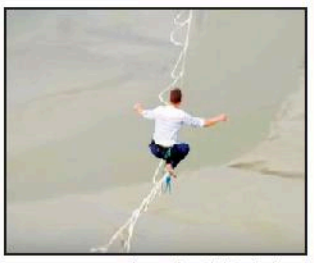
He had previously earned the Guinness World Records for most consecutive back handsprings (one hand), most consecutive back handsprings (alternating hands) and most consecutive back handsprings (interlocked hands), attempted his latest title for an episode of e.tv series Stumbo Record Breakers.

Mofokeng successfully captured the record for most full body revolutions in a backbend position in one minute.

He broke his own record for most consecutive back handsprings (interlocked hands) and the most consecutive back handsprings (alternating hands), but poor weather conditions complicated his efforts and he was unsuccessful.

Man walks 1.4 miles on high line



France: A daredevil high line walker broke a world record by walking nearly 1.4 miles on a line suspended at Mont-Saint-Michel in France.

Nathan Paulin, who made headlines in 2017 when he walked 2,198 feet on a slack line suspended between Paris' Trocadero Square and the Eiffel Tower, set a new record for high-line walking when he walked a distance of 7,218 feet over Mont-Saint-Michel, a UNESCO world heritage site in France.

Paulin's walk was recorded by camera company which posted the footage to YouTube.

Paulin said in a news release that it's "almost impossible" to describe the feeling of walking the lengthy high line.

"Sometimes I feel really powerful when I do that, but sometimes I also feel really small and I feel like I'm nothing. Being able to do that makes me feel free," he said.

Restore online water bill payment facility

Sir,

This has reference to the views expressed by many readers in this column on the subject of online payment of water bills.

I am really at a loss to understand why the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) is dilly-dallying in restoring the online water bill payment facility which existed earlier. This is not a new initiative because majority of the consumers were making use of online service for payment of their water bills.

As rightly pointed out, it is horrible to visit the MCC Zonal Office cash counter at Vijayanagar because of the worst road conditions. Will MCC wake up at least now and take immediate action to restore the already existed online water bill facility which not only increases the revenue collection but also helps the consumers to pay the water bills safely from their place of stay?

District Minister bats for new laws to prevent irregularities, scams in Co-operative Societies

'Sahakara Ratna' awardees seen with Mysuru District Minister S.T. Somashekar, MLA G.T. Devegowda, MLC Madhu G. Madegowda, Karnataka State Credit Co-operative Societies Federation Chairperson G.T. Lalitha Devegowda, District Co-operative Union President H.V. Rajeev and others.

Mysuru, Nov. 21 (MTY&DM)- Expressing concern over increasing cases of irregularities and scams in Co-operative Societies, Co-operation and Mysuru District In-charge Minister S.T. Somashekar said that stringent laws are needed to prevent scams.

He was speaking at the valedictory of 69th All India Co-operative Week organised by Karnataka State Co-operative Federation at KSOU Convocation Hall here yesterday.

Noting that a Rs. 1,270 crore massive scam was unearthed in Bengaluru's Raghavendra Co-operative Bank, Somashekar said that similar scams have been reported from several other Co-operative Banks/Societies in the past few years, which is a matter of great concern. As such, stringent laws are the need of the hour for reposing public trust in Co-operative Societies and Banks, he said adding that the RBI too has taken stringent action to prevent frauds and scams.

Maintaining that the previous Government had given a go-by to Yeshasvini Health Scheme, which was introduced when S.M. Krishna was the Chief Minister two decades ago, Somashekar said that now the Bommai Government has re-launched the popular health scheme on Nov. 14. More than 1 lakh farmers have enrolled for the scheme thus far, he added.

Stating that 21 DCC Banks in the State are running profitably, the Minister said that 3,500 out of the 5,700 PACCS (Primary Agricultural Credit Co-operative Societies) are functioning from their own buildings. The co-operative sector is growing by leaps and bounds over the years, he said adding that these Societies and Banks are playing an imperative role in the country's economy by extending loans to farmers.

Chamundeshwari MLA G.T. Devegowda (GTD), who is also Karnataka Co-operative Federation Chairman, said that it is high time Co-operative Societies make an introspection of themselves. Stressing on the need for following discipline, dedication and determination in Co-operative Institutions, he said that though the co-operative sector is witnessing an upward growth, it must be ensured that there are no derailments or lapses in growth.

GTD further said that Co-operative Societies have been playing a crucial role in poverty alleviation. Asserting that he grew up in politics because of co-operative sector, he observed that the sector has helped many politicians like him.

MLC Madhu G. Madegowda, in his address, regretted increasing political interference in the functioning of PACCSs. Calling upon the Co-operation Minister to stop such interference, he warned that interference will badly affect the health of the co-operative sector.

'Sahakara Ratna' award was conferred on the following co-operative sector achievers: Puttaiah, Dr. M.B. Manjegowda, K. Umashankar, K.N. Basant, Parthasarathy, C. Om Prakash, A.T. District Minister gheraoed

District Minister S.T. Somashekar, who too was part of the procession, was gheraoed by Sugarcane growers when he arrived at the venue.

Questioning the Minister on why he did not have the courtesy to visit them even though they sat on a dharna for 10 days, the farmers demanded an immediate hike in FRP (Fair and Remunerative Price) for sugarcane.

The Minister proceeded to the function venue after the Police succeeded in convincing the protestors.

Mysuru, Nov. 21 (MK&BCT)- The play 'Tipu Nija Kanasugalu' (Real Dreams of Tipu) made its stage debut at Rangayana last evening and it won the hearts of the audience.

The Bhoomigeeta auditorium of Rangayana was jam-packed and the play, written and directed by Rangayana Director Addanda C. Cariappa, was staged amidst tight Police security.

The star attractions of the play were Sachin Mithra, who played the role of 18th century ruler Tipu Sultan, Sowmya, who played Tipu's wife Ruqaiya Begum, Karthik who played the role of Dewan Purnaiah and Durga Paramesh, who played the role of Syed Hussain Kirmani, the Iranian scholar who migrated from Iran to Mysore and lived in Mysore at the court of both Hyder Ali and Tipu Sultan. Overall, the play received a tremendous response on the first day and the auditorium reverberated with the sounds of a clapping audience.

Many in the audience spoke highly about the play direction, costumes and the excellent performance of various roles by the actors in the historical play. The stage was designed (Ranga Vinyasa) by Shashidhar Adapa, music was provided by R.C. Dhananjaya and Subramanya Mysuru, lightings by Mahesh Kallathi and sound by P. Shivakumar.

Packed auditorium

The audience sat in rapt attention from the beginning of the play and watched it with the same attention till the end. They gave a standing ovation when the play concluded. Though the auditorium has the capacity to accommodate 250 people, there were more people who witnessed the play.

Audience started trooping into the Rangayana premises in groups after being frisked by Police as soon as the gates opened. After watching the play, they complimented Addanda Cariappa for the spectacular historical play.

Play adaptation

The play, based on letters of Tipu Sultan which are preserved in the British Library and has been translated into Kannada by Chidananda Murthy, begins with the scenes from the fourth and final Anglo-Mysore war. The three-hour play captures the imagination of the audience and has earned accolades.

Those among the audience included noted novelist and Saraswathi Samman Awardee Dr. S.L. Bhyrappa, RSS senior leader M. Venkataram, author Dr. Pradhan Gurudatta, Founder-Editor of Star of Mysore and Mysuru Mithra K.B. Ganapathy and several other noted personalities of Mysuru.

Tickets for the show were sold like hot cakes and many people returned disappointed. "We came here with the hope of purchasing tickets but they told us all the tickets have been sold out," said many who stood outside Bhoomigeeta.

'Government must support'

After the play was staged, Director of the play Addanda Cariappa introduced the artistes to the audience as the audience kept clapping.

"We have worked hard to produce this play 'Tipu Nija Kanasugalu.' We have unravelled the truth and there has to be a full stop for historical lies peddled for many years now. All the artistes were provided with historical facts and the roles were assigned only after they understood the characters. We are ready to perform 100 shows all over the State and the Government must support our endeavour," Cariappa said.

'Audience response overwhelming'

The response of the audience to the play 'Tipu Nija Kanasugalu' was overwhelming, said Rangayana Director Addanda C. Cariappa. Speaking to reporters after the play was staged at Bhoomigeeta last evening, he said, "Noted writer Dr. S.L. Bhyrappa and several other important personalities have watched the play and the first show was a tremendous success. The play and the actors received a standing ovation at the end. Everyone who has watched the play has appreciated it."

He said that the tickets of the play to be staged on Nov. 21 (today) have been sold out.

Tight Police security

The play was staged at Bhoomigeeta amidst tight Police security due to a controversy that erupted as soon as the staging of the play was announced. Over 300 Policemen, including those in mufti, guarded the main gate of Rangayana and the entrance of Bhoomigeeta. Everyone was frisked before allowing entry and even the bags were checked.

Former Rangayana Director C. Basavalingaiah watches play

Former Rangayana Director C. Basavalingaiah too watched the play 'Tipu Nija Kanasugalu'. Earlier, he was prevented by the Police from entering the Rangayana premises. The Police officers present there said they had information that he would interrupt the play and stage a protest and hence was being denied entry.

Basavalingaiah argued that he had purchased tickets to view the play. "I have come here to watch the play and not to protest," he said, displaying the entry ticket. "If you feel that we will stage a protest, please make your staff sit next to me and take legal action against me if I protest," he said.

This led to arguments for some time but the Police relented after taking an assurance that the play would not be disrupted. Later, Basavalingaiah complained to Addanda Cariappa who welcomed him and led him to the auditorium.

KSCA International Cricket Stadium in Mysuru

MUDA land at Sathagalli was once a Lake, says MP

Technical issues will be resolved soon: Pratap Simha

Mysuru Nov. 21 (RK&BCT)- The Karnataka State Cricket Association's (KSCA) plan to construct a state-of-the-art International Cricket Stadium in Mysuru is facing a technical glitch before the issue is cleared and approved by the State Cabinet.

The 19.30 land earmarked by the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) for the Stadium at Hanchya Sathagalli Layout 'B Zone' to the south of Visvesvaraya Technological University (VTU) Regional Centre on the Ring Road was once a lake land and the Revenue Department has to convert the land in consultation with the Mysuru District Administration.

"This is just a technical glitch as it has been discovered that the land was earlier a lake and the water body has dried up now. The Revenue Department, Urban Development Department and the Mysuru District Administration have to collaborate to convert the land so that it can be handed over to the KSCA," Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha told Star of Mysore this morning.

The MP, who met KSCA stakeholders including Chairman of the Indian Premier League (IPL) Governing Council Brijesh Patel and other KSCA office-bearers yesterday, had a detailed discussion about the land allotment for the Stadium that has been pending since many years.

The KSCA Mysuru Zone had sent a proposal to the MUDA eight years back for the land allotment to construct the international stadium. The land has to be handed over on a 30-year extendable lease to KSCA and the proposal is with the Urban Development Department.

"Once the land is converted and the lake-land classification is removed, the issue will be placed in front of the State Cabinet for approval. The Cabinet will have to clear the land proposal. I am actively pursuing the matter and have met Urban Development Department Secretary Dr. Ajay Nagabhushan recently to speed up the process. The ground-breaking ceremony will be held soon," Simha assured the KSCA office-bearers at the meeting.

The KSCA has grand plans to build a world-class stadium in Mysuru that will be better than the Chinnaswamy Stadium in Bengaluru. It has plans to invest Rs. 40 crore in the first six months of the stadium construction.

641 accidents in 10 months

Notably, even when the COVID travel restrictions were in place in 2020, 633 accidents were reported even with limited vehicles on the roads. Of the number of accidents in 2020, 122 persons lost their lives and 622 were injured. 118 fatal and 515 non-fatal accidents were reported in 2020.

In 2019, 866 road accidents were reported within the city limits resulting in 149 deaths and 909 persons sustaining injuries. 146 fatal and 720 non-fatal accidents were reported in 2019.

There were several reasons for the increasing number of road crashes and deaths. The speed limit for vehicles is violated and most motorists exceed this limit often leading to road crashes, said an officer with the Traffic Police. Along with speeding, aggressive or otherwise reckless driving can also result in major accidents.

Also, victims in road accidents were mostly two-wheeler riders. "All the motorists know that driving while drunk is extremely dangerous. Sadly, this knowledge has not prevented them from getting behind the wheel. Drunken driving too is one of the main causes of accidents," the officer explained.

Motorists must pay close attention to the road and other drivers or pedestrians in their vicinity when driving and even a brief distraction can result in a devastating accident.

"The major distraction nowadays is talking on the mobile phone while driving. The Act of talking over the phone demands more concentration while driving skills take a backseat. One should not attend to telephone calls while driving. If the call is urgent one should pull out beside the road and then attend the to call," the officer added.

Theatre education does not have lessons on great theatre personalities: Rangayana Director

Mysuru, Nov. 21 (SPN&DM)- Rangayana Director Addanda C. Cariappa has regretted that there are no lessons on great theatre personalities such as B.V. Karanth in the curriculum of theatre schools of the State including Sanehalli Rangashale, Neenasam and Bharatiya Ranga Shikshana.

He was speaking after releasing 'Krishnagarudi Rangakarmi L. Krishnappa-75', a felicitation volume on theatre personality L. Krishnappa at a programme jointly organised by Rangayana and Mysuru Kadamba Rangavedike at B.V. Karanth Rangachavadi in Rangayana premises here on Saturday.

Wondering how students can come to know of the contributions of great theatre personalities in the absence of lessons on them, Cariappa attributed this to the failure in documenting the works of theatre personalities.

Pointing out that actors and the Director hog the limelight in theatre and cinema, Cariappa said that the works of backroom artistes, technicians and others are less known to the audience. As such many talented personalities have failed to come to limelight, he observed.

Stating that some even question the need for bringing out a felicitation volume, he said that it is difficult to educate the future generations to make known the achievements of theatre greats, in the absence of one. It is happy to note that a felicitation volume on L. Krishnappa has been brought out marking his 75th birthday.

Highlighting the achievements of L. Krishnappa, who has engaged himself in theatre activities at Bengaluru for the past several years, he wished that the almighty bless Krishnappa a long and healthy life.

Wild elephant stuck in cement barricade, freed

Kushalnagar/ Madikeri, Nov. 21- A wild elephant, which was stuck in a cement barricade at Tondur village near Kushalnagar on Friday night, has been freed by the Forest Department in a four-hour operation.

The cement barricade was constructed by the Forest Department to prevent wild jumbos from entering the village coming under Anekaadu Reserve Forest limits on Kushalnagar-Suntikoppa Main Road.

It is said that a herd of wild elephants ventured near the cement barricade and this particular elephant, a 20-year-old female, tried to cross between the cement barricade and its stomach got stuck between two cement pillars of the barricade.

Unable to free itself, the elephant began to trumpet and the villagers who heard it, alerted the Forest Department officials. The Forest staff brought an earth-excavating machine to free the elephant but other elephants tried to attack them, thus disturbing the rescue operation.

Left with no other options, the Forest staff poured edible oil mixed with detergent on the barricade and on the portion of the elephant's body that was stuck, to make it slippery.

Finally, the elephant wriggled itself free. The elephant then tried to attack the Forest staff, who managed to flee to a safe distance. Later, the elephant joined other elephants and walked into the forest.

Kushalnagar Range Forest Officer (RFO) Shivaram, other RFOs Ranjan, Anil D'Souza, Subraya, Devaiah, Members of the Rapid Response Team and other staff of the Forest Department took part in the operation.

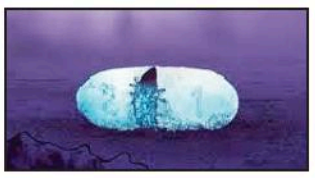
WORD OF THE DAY

Encapsulate



Pronunciation: in-KAP-suh-layt.
Meaning: Encapsulate means "to show or express the main idea or quality of (something) in a brief way."
Origin: We'll keep it brief by encapsulating the history of this word in just a few sentences. Encapsulate and its related noun, capsule, come to us from capsula, a diminutive form of the Latin noun capsa, meaning "box." (Capsa also gave us the "container" or "box" meaning of the noun case.) The earliest examples of encapsulate are for its literal use ("to enclose something in a capsule") and date to the late 19th century. Its extended meaning, "to give a summary or synopsis of something," plays on the notion of a capsule being something compact, self-contained, and often easily digestible.
Example: "Catherine Lutz, a longtime valley journalist, edited the book for correct style and punctuation purposes, without altering [writer Peggy] Clifford's content. She also wrote the captions to go along with each photo. 'The captions for the photos were purposed to encapsulate the text of the book, so if someone were to just flip through without reading the text, they could get its essence from the photos and their captions,' Lutz said..."

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Even a worm will turn

Meaning: Even the humblest and weakest will retaliate if provoked sufficiently.
Origin: The proverbial saying 'a worm will turn' is first found in John Heywood's 1546 glossary A Dialogue conteinyng the nomber in effect of all the Prouerbes in the Englishe tongue:
Treade a worme on the tayle, and it must turne agayne.
The meaning and origin of the phrase 'Even a worm will turn'Shakespeare, never one to avoid borrowing a neat expression, used the same notion a few years later in Henry VI, Part III, 1592:
Who 'scapes the lurking serpent's mortal sting?
Not he that sets his foot upon her back.
The smallest worm will turn being trodden on,
And doves will peck in safeguard of their brood.
Note that Shakespeare used serpent and worm in that passage. Snakes were called worms in medieval England. For instance, in Anthony and Cleopatra, Shakespeare refers to "the pretty worme of Nylus" [the pretty snake of the Nile].

Worms are the intestines of the earth.— Aristotle
